

Linar Plus is a modified version of Linar chairs, designed in 2007, with a smooth line connected seat with backrest. Piotr Kuchciński has changed the contour of the backrest and added a few elements including a plywood seat, thick felt, a distinctive upholstered pad and new chair bases, including wooden legs - beech and ash. A model in beech plywood can be covered, one one side, with a new material in NOTI - top-quality wool felt with a high basis weight. WALT felt is available in a trendy choice of colours ranging from intensive solid colours to pastel mélange hues. Due to its excellent functional parameters, the material is a superb choice for public utility buildings. The modified Linar Plus variants greatly increase the range of potential applications of the chairs in residential areas, offices and public utility buildings. Linar Plus chairs, thanks to the narrow seat, take up a relatively small amount of space, so they are also a good choice for furnishing restaurants and cafés. The chairs with skids and tube legs are conveniently stackable.
