LOPP is a collection consisting of three unique pieces of design for individual work, concentration, morning routine before going out or creative work in the evenings.

The three constituent pieces include a desk, a secretary desk and a dressing table. The design of "the big three" is so universal that they fit in perfectly with most interior designs, and can be used for furnishing an office, study room, suite, bedroom or hall.

The legs rest firmly on the floor, providing stability.

Each element of the collection has a drawer for storing documents, a tablet or various odds and ends.

The secretary desk and dressing table feature integrated storage solutions for accessories.

The dressing table has a mirror with the angle adjustment mechanism and rotation functionality.

Since two dimensions are available, 140 and 100 cm, the furniture items can be suited to every type of interior space.
